

1

St Austell

St Austell is a historic market town in Cornwall, England, known for its China clay industry. The town has a great selection of shops, cafés, restaurants, and accommodation, making it an excellent base for exploring the area. Don't miss the St Austell Brewery Visitor Centre and the beautiful Pinetum Gardens.

2

Par

Par is a small coastal village on Cornwall's south coast. Par Sands Beach is well worth the 20-minute walk from the Par Railway station stop, with its long sandy beach, dunes and a nearby nature reserve popular with birdwatchers. Par railway station provides connections on the main line and the Newquay branch line.

3

Fowey

Fowey is a picturesque harbour town on Cornwall's south coast, known for its narrow streets, independent shops, waterfront cafés, and stunning estuary views. Walkers can enjoy the scenic route to St Catherine's Castle and Readymoney Cove, offering beautiful coastal views and a peaceful beach to explore.
